

Penn Lyon Homes Recognized for Excellence in Design

April 27, 2008 – Penn Lyon Homes Corporation was recently awarded the 2008 Best New Home Design Award from the Modular Housing Institute (MHI) and the National Modular Housing Council (NMHC). Roger A. Lyons, Penn Lyon Homes Chief Executive Officer was on hand to accept the award at the 2008 National Congress & Expo for Manufactured and Modular Housing.

Penn Lyon Homes was recognized for the “Ecohealth Homes Craftsman Bungalow” in the modular concept home over 2,200 square feet category. The Ecohealth Homes Craftsman Bungalow, designed by Michelle Roberts & Amy Ellison Ostberg of Chatham Hill Residential Design & Build, LLC is the first in a new series of Ecohealth Homes being offered by Penn Lyon Homes Corporation.

“The Ecohealth Homes series will be launched in the second half of 2008,” stated David Reed, President of Penn Lyon Homes. “The series will further enhance the existing environmentally friendly aspects of modular construction while providing our independent builders with a totally eco-friendly home that is being demanded by today’s consumer.”

The Ecohealth Homes Craftsman Bungalow features healthy, safe and sustainable construction methods and materials. Specifications include structural insulated panels (SIPS), mold resistant gypsum, tankless water heaters and low VOC paints. The Universal design also adheres to the National Center for Healthy Housing’s seven principles of healthy housing and is Energy Star compliant.

“We are extremely proud of these individuals and companies for their vision, dedication and energy in enhancing and moving the manufactured and modular housing industries forward. These prestigious awards represent the highest achievement within the manufactured and modular housing industries and are a testament to the hard work and pride each winner has put into their business,” said MHI President Gail Cardwell.

Penn Lyon Homes has provided distinctive and affordable quality homes and modular commercial buildings throughout the Northeast, and Mid-Atlantic States for 27 years. More information about Penn Lyon Homes can be accessed at WWW.PENNLION.COM.
